Specifications

The effect is a dynamic timepiece that's equally sophisticated and just a touch whimsical, playing on the charms that only old-world antique designs can bring to any space.

Its colors alone set it apart, but there's more to this dramatic wall clock than meets the eye. The Moment in Time antique dial features a wrought iron frame, while a peephole at the "6" numeral reveals an eye-catching pendulum finished in antique brass. The opening is trimmed with warm charcoal bezel and features a protective glass covering. With its medley of gold, maroon, and black hues, along with its gold-tone spade hands, this timepiece serves as the perfect statement piece for any revamped space.
