Specifications

While it serves its functional role masterfully (with a quartz movement), it also provides any space — be it residential or professional — with an air of undeniable class and sophistication. That's thanks to its exquisite silhouette, its meticulous attention to detail, and its unique, eye-catching design.

From top to bottom, this eye-catching clock is designed to capture attention. It's finished in aged silver that captures an old-world aesthetic, while the arched base and dial are finished in natural walnut with a vertical grain panel for a down-to-earth element that provides beautiful balance. Both the hour and minute hands are finished in aged silver to tie everything together cohesively. The perfect finishing touch is the sleek and simple pendulum, which boasts a cylindrical bob in natural walnut and an aged, silver-finished pendulum stick.
